

The FLAMENCA low center table is a successor to the award-winning and sculptural table TORO. Smaller in dimensions, shares with it a similar experimental conception of materials and production methods combining technology and manually impeccable finish.

Inspired by the fringes that adorn the popular Spanish flamenco dress, this piece of furniture is an abstract subtle geometric construction translated into the design of assemblable modules, a trademark of Estudio Cerisola.

The table is weighed down by a glass transparent surface enhancing the sculptural qualities of the furniture.
