

The NARCISO center table draws inspiration from the homonymous Greek myth of Narcissus who, in love with his own image and seeing it reflected in a pond, ended up throwing himself into the waters to chase it.

A piece conformed by a modular structure of stainless steel petals of three different sizes, symmetrically welded around a central axis conforming a perfect circle. The geometric system of NARCISO is based on a twelve sided antiprism constructed by pieces of polished stainless steel so that the material, previously opaque, ends up having a mirror like finish that allows it to coalesce with its surroundings.
