

Estudio Cerisola highly believes children should be central to good urban planning and design. We believe a city with a future, is a city that takes care of their children, the safekeepers of the forthcoming. Therefore, rethinking childhood and the production of more friendly furnitures, and cities, for children is one Estudio Cerisola's main concern.

Changuero is an extremely stable construction. It encourages people of all ages to interact, enliven agility, flexibility and laughter. Changuero has been exhibited in many different venues and all our visitors, from children and teenagers to adults have interacted with it leading Changuero to win adepts and users wherever it has been shown.
